Biography

Laura Hagenow is a Partner at Kelley Kronenberg, concentrating her practice in the defense of worker's compensation claims throughout the state of Indiana. Laura's legal career spans more than three decades handling legal defense for clients in various civil litigation matters including family law, employment law, medical malpractice, worker's compensation, premises and product liability matters.

Laura is known for her excellent work product, timely, thorough and detailed analysis, identifying targeted plans of action, strategic courses of action and is extremely skilled at efficient case handling and prompt resolution. Because of these talents, she develops an outstanding rapport and loyalty with her clients. She has given numerous presentations to clients on the handling of worker's compensation matters in Indiana, education and the impact of newly enacted worker's compensation laws and recommendations for best practices to streamline the administration of claims and to reduce exposure and facilitate cost containment goals for clients.

Laura holds a Bachelor of Arts in Mathematics, with minors in Psychology and Chemistry from Indiana University. She graduated cum laude from the Indiana University McKinney School of Law, where she received a Labor Law Scholarship and participated in the Dean's Tutorial Society.

Laura enjoys traveling, attending concerts and spending time with family and friends. She is an active participant in community service and devotes time and efforts as a volunteer with Goodwill and the St. Vincent DePaul Society and has contributed to her local community through her involvement with Holy Spirit at Geist and St. Simon Catholic Churches in various roles, ranging from Eucharistic minister to cheerleading coach.
