Biography

Zachary Schiffman is a Practice Partner at Kelley Kronenberg, focusing his practice on first-party property and third-party matters. Zachary assists in representing property insurance carriers in complex coverage disputes and bad faith claims.

Before joining Kelley Kronenberg, Zachary practiced at a prominent multistate defense firm defending a broad range of cases ranging from automobile accidents, first-party property claims (commercial and residential), construction defect, claims, and premises liability cases. Before becoming a civil defense attorney, Zachary represented homeowners in commercial insureds in first-party disputes at a respected Plaintiff's practice. As such, Zachary brings a unique perspective and provides an individualized approach to every case.

Zachary received his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from the University of Central Florida, where he made Dean's and President's Lists. While at the University of Central Florida, Zachary was a member of Phi Alpha Delta, the Sports Business Club, and the National Society of Collegiate Scholars.

Zachary earned his Juris Doctor degree from the University of Miami School of Law, where he was an active member of the Business Law Society and the Cardozo Jewish Law Society. While in law school, Zachary clerked for a large and respected Plaintiff's firm specializing in first-party property disputes.

Zachary enjoys spending time with family and friends outside of the office and watching Yankees games.
