Biography

Michael Segall is a Partner in the Wealth Family Protection Division at Kelley Kronenberg, concentrating his practice on estate planning, probate and trust administration, business succession planning, and asset protection. With specialized knowledge of tax law, he serves clients across all wealth levels—from foundational estate planning to high-net-worth strategies—developing tailored approaches that preserve and protect assets, simplify estate transitions, and help clients achieve their long-term goals.

Michael built his career at several distinguished South Florida law firms, most recently serving as a Partner at a Plantation-based firm for more than seven years. His experience includes guiding clients through complex planning challenges and developing tailored solutions that streamline the transfer of assets and probate matters. Throughout his career, he has built a reputation for crafting sophisticated wealth preservation strategies that align with his clients' unique goals.

Michael earned his B.B.A. with a concentration in finance from The George Washington University. He went on to obtain his Juris Doctor from Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law, graduating magna cum laude. He further enhanced his expertise by earning an LL.M. in Taxation from the University of Florida Levin College of Law, providing him with advanced knowledge essential for complex estate planning.
