Biography

Jordan Wainstein is a Practice Partner at Kelley Kronenberg, where she handles real estate and mortgage foreclosure & default services. She also assists banks and other financial service providers with regulatory, enforcement, transactional, and litigation matters.

Jordan earned her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Florida, where she majored in English. During her time at the University of Florida, Jordan was a member of the Pre-Legal Honors Society.

Jordan then went on to earn her Juris Doctor degree from Nova Southeastern University-Shepard Broad College of Law, where she was an associate Editor for the ILSA Law Journal, as well as a member of the Moot Court Society. Jordan was the Vice President of her School's Association of Business Law Students and the Transactional Law Practice Group President. She gained legal experience while earning her J.D. by attending the Trial Advocacy Summer Institute, being a pupil in the Craig S. Barnard Inn of Court, and working as a Teaching Assistant to Adjunct Professor Gary Brown.

While in school, Jordan worked at Kelley Kronenberg as a Summer Associate and Law Clerk, where she worked directly with our construction department. Jordan gained experience by summarizing discovery reports, trial records, briefs, and other documents. She drafted deposition reports, pleadings, letters to insurance adjusters, and tender letters to carriers. She also served as a Judicial Intern to Judge Marcia Cooke for the United States District Court, Southern District of Florida.

Jordan is an active member of the American Legal & Financial Network Junior Professionals & Executive Group and volunteers regularly at SOS Children's Villages Florida, showcasing a commitment to both professional development and community service.
