Biography

Alida Verdino is a Partner at Kelley Kronenberg who brings exceptional expertise in general liability, including the defense of professional liability, negligent security, and New York labor law claims. With more than two decades of distinguished experience, Alida has established herself as a formidable presence in the insurance defense litigation arena. She consistently delivers outstanding results for her clients while maintaining the highest standards of legal representation.

Following law school, Alida began her career at a top national law firm where she gained invaluable litigation experience defending lawyers and accountants in high-stakes cases. She later joined a prestigious New York City firm where she practiced for nearly fifteen years, rising to Partner level while skillfully handling complex general liability, first-party property insurance, and EPLI matters. Throughout her career, Alida has demonstrated a deep understanding of the intricacies involved in insurance defense litigation, earning her the respect of both clients and colleagues.

Alida holds a Juris Doctor from New York Law School and a Bachelor of Arts from Binghamton University with concentrations in Italian, Spanish, Japanese, and Classical Piano. She is an active member of several prestigious organizations including the American Bar Association, WSIA, CLM, PLUS, Columbian Lawyers Association, RIMS, IACP, and IRMI.

Alida is fluent in Italian and Spanish and conversational in Japanese.
