Biography

Amy Ortis is a Partner at Kelley Kronenberg in the Real Estate Division, focusing her practice on mortgage foreclosure and default services. She brings nearly three decades of comprehensive experience in corporate and commercial law, creditor's rights, real estate transactions, and title insurance.

Prior to joining Kelley Kronenberg, Amy served as Managing Attorney for a financial services law firm, where she managed and mentored a team of attorneys and support staff specializing in foreclosures, evictions, bankruptcy, and collections. She oversaw daily operations including budgeting, resource allocation, and performance metrics, while also engaging in legal research, pleading development, and providing legal counsel. She brings experience including serving as an attorney and branch manager for an affiliate of a Fortune 500 corporation, where she directed a team of professionals, coordinated corporate activities, led title review, and facilitated real estate transactions. She has also served as the managing attorney for a branch office, overseeing daily operations and issuing title insurance, and has practiced as an attorney specializing in corporate and commercial litigation. She began her career as a judicial law clerk in the Twenty-First Judicial District Court of Louisiana.

Amy earned her Bachelor of Arts in English and Sociology from Louisiana State University. She received her Juris Doctor from Mississippi College School of Law.

Amy is a licensed title insurance producer in Louisiana and possesses exceptional experience in establishing and enforcing corporate compliance, resolving title defects, and managing complex real estate transactions.
