Biography

Cydnei Nettles is an Attorney at Kelley Kronenberg, focusing her practice on the defense of general liability and third-party insurance matters.

Prior to joining Kelley Kronenberg, Cydnei worked as an associate attorney at a law firm representing creditors in civil litigation, where she drafted and filed pleadings, motions, and discovery requests, conducted legal research, negotiated settlement agreements, and attended court hearings, mediations, and depositions. During law school, she served as a Legal Intern for the Department of Children and Family Services, where she drafted legal memoranda, supported attorneys in preparing dependency petitions and motions, and conducted legal research on Florida juvenile and dependency statutes. She also worked as a research assistant at St. Thomas University College of Law, where she researched case law and statutes concerning police enforcement and contributed to a research article submitted to the American Bar Association.

Cydnei earned her Bachelor of Arts in Strategic Communication from the University of South Alabama, where she was active in the Public Relations Student Society of America and the American Advertising Federation. She received her Juris Doctor from St. Thomas University College of Law, where she earned a Business Law Certification.
