Biography

Zac Williams is an attorney at Kelley Kronenberg, focusing his practice on the defense of general liability and third-party insurance defense matters.

Prior to becoming an attorney at Kelley Kronenberg, Zac served as a law clerk with the firm's General Liability and Third-Party Insurance Defense Division, where he provided essential discovery and litigation support and garnered the skills needed for his current role. He previously worked as a legal intern at a company where he worked directly with the Vice President of Legal & Regulatory Affairs on sports gambling regulations and licensing requirements, as a law clerk at a law firm where he assisted in writing legal memos and drafting motions and legal documents, as a judicial intern for the Honorable Judge Jeffrey Levenson in the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit of Florida Civil Division, and as a legal intern for the Broward County Public Defender's Office where he attended depositions and visited clients in jail to provide case updates.

Zac earned his Bachelor of Science in Criminology from Florida State University. He received his Juris Doctor from Nova Southeastern University Shepard Broad College of Law, where he was a member of Phi Alpha Delta Fleming Chapter.
